

Carolyn M. Clark

Chief Operations Officer

Carolyn M. Clark grew up as a citizen of the world; a military brat, the daughter of a U.S. Army officer. Born in Newfoundland, by the time she was 10, Carolyn had moved 8 times and attended 4 different elementary schools in 4 different states. She lived in Germany for five years during her junior high and high school years returning to the states for her senior year and graduating from a high school in Illinois where her father was stationed at Scott AFB.

Carolyn attended college in Illinois and ultimately moved back to the family hometown of Seattle, WA where she completed her college career and began working in the dual careers of legal services and music. She worked her way through the ranks of legal support staff becoming a paralegal while working as a performing musician across the northwest region of the West Coast. Carolyn relocated to Nashville in 1995 where she continued working as both a paralegal and musician/songwriter. She worked for several law firms and fortune 500 healthcare companies as a research and investigative paralegal. She retired from the legal field in 2017.

Long drawn to and involved in local and national politics, Carolyn ran for and was elected to the Board of Commissioners of her adopted home town of Kingston Springs, TN in 2020 and served a 4-year term

As COO of Sniper Pro Shop, Carolyn Clark leads the incident support actions of SPS by providing investigative research and support to client agencies and officers who have been involved in use of force incidents that may need the litigation support services of SPS/HGTG. Her work has contributed to the clearing of officers in investigations and she is well known in agencies for her outspoken support of law enforcement officers.

Carolyn also manages curriculum development and organization and as well as updates for all SPS/HGTG courses. Her tactical photography has graced the pages of SPS manuals for the last 20 years. Her research keeps the HGTG training team updated and sometimes working hard to keep up.

In addition to her duties as COO of SPS, Carolyn finds time for photography and artwork with her website of www.cmkcstudio.com. Her hand colorization of both new and old photographs is remarkable and leaves the viewer wondering if it is a painting or photo – the answer is yes.

Paralegal, Investigator, Musician, Artist, Commissioner, COO Carolyn M. Clark is, in a word – formidable.
